Pneumonia (?)

There have been no epidemic diseases in the county for the year ending June 1, 1860. Fevers have usually assumed a typhoid form in this locality for some years and are attended with considerable fatality. Consumption is also becoming more prevalent than in past years. These remarks are applicable to the county generally.

The water of this county is what is called limestone water. The soil a black, deep, mould, the rocks generally limestone, with some sandstone. The timber is mostly Post Oak, White Oak, Hickory, and walnut, with poplar, ash etc. in the Southern part near the Mississippi River. No natural fertilizer except lime, which as yet, is seldom used here in agriculture.

End of RANDOLPH COUNTY

May the blessed sunlight shine upon you and warm your heart till it glows like a great red fire, so that the stranger may come and warm himself at it, and call a friend.
